Canada is Prophetically Positioned for the End-Time Harvest

In the past fifteen years, there have been a number of well recognized prophetic voices that have proclaimed the powerful prophetic role Canada is to play in the end-time move of God’s Spirit. Kenneth Hagin, Kenneth Copeland, Bobby Conner, and Dr. Cho are just some of those voices.

It is obvious that we stand at the very threshold of the greatest move of God’s spirit ever known to man. This is a season that every prophet has prophesied about. Every and any day, you can open the newspaper or listen to a broadcast and see the signs of the times – end-time prophecy being fulfilled right before our eyes. Most of us realize that there are certain nations, places, and individuals that God has set aside for just such a time as this. I honestly believe in my heart that Canada is being prophetically positioned for its role. The plumb line is dropping across the nations of the world, and in every church, people group, and of course, in our individual lives, we are being called upon to discern the time and the season of God. He is realigning and redefining His Church and His people in this hour.

Let me just state a few points to confirm my position concerning Canada. First, Canada is internationally recognized as a friendly nation whose doors and heart are open to a very diverse group of people. Its immigration policies are very liberal and humane, making it so Canada has become one of the greatest mission fields in the world. There are people here from every tribe, every tongue and nation. Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver, and Hamilton along with most of the other major cities of the nation, are international cities, melting pots of culture and diversity. Less than 5% of the population of Canada is born again, blood washed believers. Many of them were influential in their native land. Certainly some came through hardship, but many came for educational or economic reasons. Some have chosen to stay. Some will go back and forth and be influential again in their own homeland.

I find like most countries that are experiencing open door policies of immigration, there is a tendency on our part, to be concerned and even at times to complain about the strain that new immigrants put upon the educational, healthcare, political and social systems; however, I can see the hand and heart of God in all of this. Many Christians with a missionary call and a heart for the nations have heard about the 10-40 window and have a heart to extend the Kingdom of God into those regions, but for assorted reasons many of us are not able to go or to answer the simple command of the Lord to “Go Ye.” The spirit is willing but the flesh is weak. Sometimes, it is just not our season or with all of the personal responsibilities that we have, that we are just not able to go. But the Lord in His divine wisdom and because of His end-time mandate on this nation has chosen to send the 10-40 window here to Canada for just such a time as this.

In the last three years, there has been a major spiritual shift in the hearts of the Christian community in Canada. There is a fresh hunger that is being birthed. There is more unity in the Spirit, which is obviously a requisite for a move of the Spirit and the commanded blessing of God. There are certain people groups that need to be impacted because of the key role that they will play in bringing revival to the nation.

1. The First Nations People
2. The Inuit from the Arctic
3. The French speaking population
4. The Africans
5. Unity of Apostles, Pastors, and other Christian leaders

In order for revival to come to Canada, all four of these major people groups need to be impacted. This past year there was major healing and reconciliation came when the Canadian government publicly repented for the atrocities of the residential schools where so many First Nations people were abused and hurt. Two years ago there was a major healing that occurred between the French and the English. David Damien and his intercessory groups traveled across the nation bringing healing and hope for revival.

We as a ministry have spent a number of years reaching out to the First Nations people and this past year ministered in Regina, Yorktown and The Key Reserve in Saskatchewan as well as The New Credit Reserve and The Six Nations Reserve in Ontario. We are presently birthing a church on The Six Nations Reserve. We have been to the Arctic four times in the last two years including Pond Inlet and Iqualit on Baffin Island and also in Salluit and Quaqtaq in the Quebec Arctic doing apostolic prophetic conferences and leadership seminars to equip and empower the saints. They are the gate keepers of the North, and they have a great hunger for the spirit.

We have also visited Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec City, ministering to the French speaking community and the Full Gospel Business Men’s International. One of the churches under our covering is pastored by Jacque and Nicole Philibert called Refuge under His Wings. God is on the move in the French speaking community. They have a great heart to worship. Quebec is probably one of the greatest mission fields in all of North America with a very low percentage of born-again believers. However, there is a heart swell and hunger just below the surface and something is ready to explode in the French speaking community.

Since coming here in 2000, I have ministered in more than fifteen African churches from many different nations, touching people from Nigeria, Congo, Kenya, Ghana, and others. Many Africans were birthed in the spirit of revival and have great liberty in worship and the spirit. Having faced great hardship in their homeland, they appreciate what they have here in Canada and want to see the nation changed for the glory of God. You can see the African leaders beginning to unify here in the Spirit.
Just this past year, I attended a national leadership gathering of over 70 apostolic network leaders in Brantford, Ontario under the leadership of Rick Ciaramitaro of the Open Bible Fellowship and David Maines of Huntley Street and the general superintendent of the Pentecostal Assemblies of God. We discussed serious issues, developed relationships, forged godly alliances and promoted unity across denominational lines and doctrinal differences. We committed to meet again at least once or twice a year to open lines of communication and believe God together for Revival in Canada.

To me one of the keys to all of this, coming together is the media. In comparison to the United States and considering the large numbers of people and resources available in Canada, the area that we are most sorely lacking is in TV, radio, and even print media exposure properly promoting and letting people know how God is working in our nation. The vast potential that Canada has as an international mission field, we need to get the message out that God is moving in Canada, souls are at stake, and that Canada has an end-time role in the Spirit. Sometimes with Americans, I cannot even convince them that Canada is a mission field. At times, we are dwarfed by mass media and great Christian broadcasting and promotion in the United States. When are we going to realize that Canada has a key role in God’s end-time move of the Spirit?

Now is the time to blow ye the trumpet and sound the alarm. Canada is a tremendous mission field. Now is the time to let the world know that the fields are white for harvest in Canada.

Below is a prophetic word that I received for Canada shortly after arriving in the country:

“Oh Canada, I have not forgotten thee. Thou art the apple of my eye. I am going to pour forth my power upon thee and pour thee upon the nations of the world. For I not have not forgotten thee. Thou art the apple of my eye.”
